Lincoln Road Residents Confront Board

By Lawrence Moore

SUTTON - The October 1 meeting of Sutton Selectmen was opened at 7:38 by Chair David Strieby. In attendance were Selectmen Wally Johnson, Mike Chizy, Mary K. Connor, and Town Administrator Dexter Blois.

An irate group of residents was present to protest long delays in the completion of the paving of Lincoln Road. Rosemary Cann, speaking for the group, referred to a memo dated August 9,1990 in which a tentative schedule for six parts of the job was outlined by Blois. "One item out of six has been done," she said. "We are totally disgusted. It's a disaster to drive down. This construction has been going on for three years now. I would like something tonight done about it."

Blois said the town has run into "many stumbling blocks." He listed the acquisition of easements, the relocation of easements, negotiations with Northbridge because drainage at the lower end of the road is being tied from a subdivision in Northbridge to Sutton drainage, staking and restaking of elevations by the surveyor, and storms.

When Blois said, "We're going to be starting on it shortly," several residents exploded into recriminations and accusations. Bob Dowd said, "We heard that last year and the year before, too."

Strieby asked Highway Surveyor Ray Smith for information. Smith noted progress on several items, particularly a special manhole which had to be ordered because of the complicated drainage.

Dowd said he doubted the excuse about tying in with Northbridge. "That project isn't off the ground yet," he said. "Who are you guys trying to kid?" He noted that a Town truck had tipped over, and that school buses had, on occasion, let students off at the top of the hill. Dowd also questioned whether a developer would have been permitted to cause extensive siltage into the wetlands. "The developer would have been closed down," he said. "Let's finish what we started and get it done."

Richard LaPorte, of 142 Lincoln Road, spoke quietly of five years of frustration, of dealing with silt, ice and snow on his driveway, of being unable to plow because rocks damaged his plow, of having to shovel out his driveway, winter and summer. "Is that reasonable?" he asked.

Cann said the use of a private contractor might have been a less expensive alternative.

LaPorte suggested that a periodic update of progress, plans and problems might help the residents understand what is going on, and thereby avoid hard feelings. "It's not only a sense of frustration..it's why? I don't understand it," he said. "It's embarrassing to have people visit you. Anywhere in this town, I haven't seen a road to compare."

Gail Dowd questioned the use of a street sweeper on Lincoln Road.

Bob Dowd asked why the town has to wait for Northbridge and why he got the same answer two years ago.

Smith explained that the delay was caused by the need to agree on the size of pipe entering the manhole before proceeding, since the town would not permit the road to be torn up after it was paved.

In answer to Johnson's question about when the road would be fit to travel, Smith said the drainage would be completed within a week and a half and that the road would be usable, even if not paved.

Strieby asked Blois for a weekly update to the board and at least a six week update to all the residents on Lincoln Road.

Connor reminded the group that both Blois and Smith work conscientiously to get their jobs done, sometimes with limited resources and in the face of unavoidable obstacles.

She said she found fault with the abrasive approach that some of the residents had used. "It's hard for me to sit here and have people talk to other people that way," she said, "having been the one that received it in the past, and I want to speak up for Dexter and for Ray. I wish that people would treat everybody in a more professional way."

Cann said she understood, but added, "You can't expect people to be stringing along for three years and not get angry." She also commended Smith on the work of the Highway Department, but noted, "If you had to drive up Lincoln Road eight times a day and realize what damage it's done..."

In answer to a question from Chizy, the residents said the lower end of the road is worse than when they moved there, but the upper end is better. Both Chizy and Johnson asked for tolerance until the job is completed.

Strieby said that even if an outside contractor might have completed the work sooner, the town financially was unable to spend the money.

Smith and Blois contended that all the delays and obstacles would have held up anyone trying to do the job. In answer to temporary measures suggested, Smith said drainage had to be completed before anything could be done to the surface. He also reminded the people that the level of the road had to be changed because the houses were built without regard to grade requirements.

As the tone of the meeting calmed, the residents agreed that factual communication might keep tempers and frustration in check.

Redistricting

A current precinct map, to be used as a start for the redistricting process, was distributed by Blois. Shifts are necessary between Precincts 1 (Center) and 2 (Wilkinsonville), but Blois suggested that planned development in Precinct 3 (Manchaug) makes it wise to consider changes there too. A precinct must be + or - 5% of the norm.

Strieby and Connor suggested that Blois make a start on a plan. "It's much easier to fix a wheel than it is to invent the wheel," Strieby said.

Blois said he and Town Clerk Ethel O'Day agree that redistricting is political, "and we're not in politics." He said he will make a proposal.

Connor asked if Sutton could have four precincts.

"You could," Bloid replied, "but that would increase by 1/3 the cost of elections. I wouldn't recommend that now, because the State allows 4000 residents per precinct and we're only at 7000 total."

"It's only related to where the people have to go to vote," Connor said.

Johnson noted that people can vote at any polling place.

Dean Farm Road

A public hearing was held on the discontinuance of Dean Farm Road. David Suhl and other residents of Lincoln Road have petitioned the Town Meeting to discontinue the road. Dean Farm Road runs east and south between 57 and 63 Lincoln Road to the Northbridge Line. It is currently a cart path running across several properties.

The discontinuance will prevent a developer requiring the town to bring the road up to standard, which is not possible because of current ownership of abutting properties. The road was accepted by the town in 1833, but there is no record of it having been abandoned.

Robert Bleakley, speaking on behalf of the owners of 50 acres on the road, objected to the discontinuance, saying, "It's always been a road, we bought it with a road, and we don't think there's any reason why it should be taken away from us." The only access to the land is Dean Farm Road.

In answer to a question about 'landlocking' from Bob Dowd of Lincoln Road, Blois replied, "Anyone who had a right to pass over that road retains that right." The proposed action asks that the road be discontinued as a "Town Road" but each person on the road would retain the right to pass over the road.

A developer would have to present a subdivision plan, including rebuilding the road to standard, according to Blois. Suhl compared that

Remark was an Eye Opener

To the Editor:

It was an eye opener to read the remark by Selectman Bleau regarding the Dog Officer - that something be done to verify how the monies are spent. All Mr. Bleau has to do is check the files in the Selectmen's office, the Auditor or the Treasurer's office - all have copies of the dog officer's expenditures.

Mr. Bleau also signs the vouchers for payment.

If he has any further questions about this matter, why doesn't he ask the Dog Officer or me - I will gladly show him what the Town owns (in the dog officer's possession). I wonder what Mr. Bleau thinks I have done with the "Town Pens?"

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

It's one thing to preach it, but it's quite another thing to practice it. I'm talking about patience. It is one of the virtues and gifts of the Holy Spirit in the Christian's life; but how to obtain it is quite another thing.

I had a big lesson in patience this last week. I woke up on Sunday morning with a fever and chills, so this landed me back in the hospital for five days. After four days, the doctor came in and used the magic word "home," and it drove me crazy until she finally had to tell me I was in for another day. She was right of course, but I was very upset.

Then I was put on hold for the implanting of a porta-cath, which is a tube into a vein in my chest thru which my chemotherapy will now be administered. Wait! Then the call came and I had to wait. Down to surgery and I had to wait. Thru the surgery and towards the end I got very restless. Wait! Into the recovery room. Wait! Then back to my room to wait for the doctor to release me. Then wait for the nurse to remove my catheter. Then a short wait for a ride home, and at last home, sweet home! Ah!

In a children's program, it tells of a snail named Herbert who was so very slow. He'd cause a traffic jam wherever he would go...and then he would sing this song:

Be Patient! Be Patient!
Don't be in such a hurry!
When you get impatient
You only start to worry
Remember! Remember!
That God is patient too!
And think of all the times
When others had to wait for you.

God bless you all with patience! Amen...

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Town Facing Added Costs for Light Conversion

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The October 1 Selectmen's meeting began at 7 P.M. with all members present.

Computer Course

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase informed the Board that the School Department will be offering a basic course in computers for Town employees involving 18 employees at $25 per person. Board Chairman Jude Cristo asked who would pay for the course. Chase replied, hopefully the Board of Selectmen for the three employees in their office. Cristo asked if a waiver could be granted for the cost. Chase said the teacher needs to be paid. The Board unanimously approved the tuition payment.

Emergency Generator

Chase reported a problem with the switch for the emergency generator. He said the cost for replacement would be $4887 and the cost to repair it almost the same. A transfer of funds will be requested from the Finance Committee (FinCom) and the job will go out to bid. Selectman Roland Lachance expressed surprise that the switch was not part of the bid specs last year when the generator was replaced. The Board approved the request for a transfer of $4887 to be presented to FinCom for their approval.

Additional Costs for Light Conversion

Chase informed the Board that a recent notification from Mass. Electric indicates that an additional $33,000 will be needed to complete the street light conversion work. He said he has already contacted local legislators as well as the State DPU to appeal the added cost which is a result of a rate change. Chase said the added cost is above the town's agreement with Mass. Electric.

Cristo said the work should proceed at the old rate since the agreement was made in good faith, otherwise the Board may have to reassess the whole issue.

Jug Handle

Chase reported that the State DPW does not want to meet with the Board and the developer of The Latti Farm Industrial Park on Rte 20 in an open meeting at the Town Hall. He said they would prefer to hold a meeting first at the DPW Office in Worcester since the private developer has funds involved in the jughandle project.

Cristo said he couldn't understand why a state agency wouldn't want to meet in public. Chase said one of the problems is that the land purchase deal fell through and the State will have to take private property by eminent domain.

Beer and Wine License

At 7:30, a public hearing was held on the application of Millbury House of Pizza, 110 Elm Street, for a beer and wine license.

A letter was received from the Rev. Raeburn Cameron, Pastor of the Millbury Baptist Church, who said the church's Board of Directors, on September 9, voted to oppose the application. It was noted that the vote did not derogate from the integrity of the owners or the operation of the business.

Cristo noted that under Mass. General Laws, the Board can rule in favor of the application as long as it gives a written statement indicating that the licensed premises would not be a detriment to the spiritual activities of the church. He also noted that all other abutters were notified and that there are two other churches in the area as well. No other abutters were present or expressed written opposition.

Selectman Gerry Bleau suggested that the owners sit down with the Church and see if something could be worked out.

Owner Paula Gidoupoulous said she would contact the Church and try to address their concerns as the letter did not say why the Directors opposed the license application.

The Selectmen took the request under advisement until next week's meeting.

Tax Rate

Walter Hagstrom, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, recommended that the Town again set a single tax rate for Commercial/Industrial and Residential property at $10.80 per $1000 valuation, up from a rate of $10.34 last year. Assessor Alan Tuttle noted that the tax base increased by $7 million over last year. Total value of property this year stands at $620,972,000.

Road Work

The Board met with Highway Surveyor Joe Chase who was present to request approval for a Memo of Agreement with the State, seeking funds for road work in the Town under Chapter 121. The Board unanimously approved. Funds have been committed from the Town Meeting for work to begin on Providence Street.

Lachance asked Chase if he had given any thought to an extension of a drive out to School Street from the Town Hall.

Chase said he could put figures together, but noted that he is not sure of the extent of Town owned land. There is also town land in the rear that runs over to the old Elm Court near the river.

Bylaw

Alexander Belisle, of Grafton Street, asked board members for their thoughts on the recently enacted town bylaw relating to the electromagnetic fields associated with transmission lines. The bylaw was passed by the voters at the September 24 town meeting.

Cristo replied that the Board wants to await a ruling from the Attorney General on the legality of the bylaw.

Belisle said there is a lot he will be doing in support of the bylaw, but remarked that he would not go into detail because he felt that anything he said to the board would go right back to New England Power (NEP). "We were very disturbed that Earl (Chase) called New England Power before (to personally inform them of the impending bylaw). I am afraid of that happening again," said Belisle.

Belisle then asked why Chase did not call all the abutters to power lines who might have been affected by the bylaw?

Cristo said Chase called NEP for more information. "There is always two sides to a story," he said. He then suggested that more discussion was needed on the pros and cons of the issue.

Belisle noted that discussions and public hearings on the issue have been going on for a year and a half in town yet the selectmen never attended one of the meetings. He said that both NEP and the Planning Board brought in consultants at a public hearing to discuss the issue. He also noted that he gave the Board a number of studies to read, prior to town meeting, relating to adverse health effects associated with electromagnetic fields. "You have not read (the studies) and now you are asking for more study," said Belisle. He also noted that the information he provided to the board came from reports by the Environmental Protection Agency and the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health. "It's not something Alec Belisle has written to zing New England Power Company. There is hard evidence," Belisle said. "The reports have withstood strong peer review by scientists who have tried to poke holes in the evidence."

Lachance asked Belisle what he thought the town's chances were of going up against the DPU and NEP should they decide to challenge the bylaw.

Belisle replied that the bylaw passed despite lack of support from the Selectmen and some members of the Planning Board, and with Town Counsel "just about pleading the case" for New England Power Company. "And none of you had any idea that the by-law would pass," he said.

"People I have talked to today at the New England Radiological Health Conference are looking to Millbury," Belisle continued. "They think Millbury is courageous. They think NEP is in for a surprise." He then invited the board to attend the health conference on Wednesday, at which experts from the scientific community, including EPA and EPRI (Electric Power Research Institute), would be continuing discussions on health effects related to electromagnetic fields.

Cristo said he had a previous commitment; other board members did not respond.

Cristo then again called for more information on the issue, saying people may not take the time to read about it but might be willing to listen to arguments both pro and con.

Belisle cautioned Cristo that NEP will be bringing in highly paid consultants to defend their position. "In order for it to be fair (to the townspeople who voted for the bylaw)," he said, "you will have to spend the same amount of money to bring in the same caliber of experts that NEP does."

Belisle closed the discussion by noting that the Massachusetts House of Representatives is involved with legislation on the EMF issue through Legislation being sponsored by State Rep. Barbara Gardner (D-Hopkinton), who is opposing the placement of a substation in her district.

Cristo suggested that any information sessions include the Department of Public Health, the Energy Facilities Siting Commission and the DPU.

"Good, get them down here," Belisle said. "I can't wait to have them come down here and answer questions."

Miscellaneous

- After some discussion the Board decided to hold public interviews on October 15 for the three candidates who scored the highest on the Police Chief Civil Service Exam last June: Sgts. Lincoln Barton and Stephen Webb, and Officer Richard Handfield. Handfield was the high scorer. The Board is awaiting the certification list from Civil Service. The board plans to announce its choice for Police Chief on October 22, with the intention of having the position filled November 1.

- Estimated Free Cash for the next Fiscal Year is projected to be $1,456,789, which is higher than previously projected.

Correspondence

A letter was received from Town Collector Marie Colacchio in response to information printed in the Chronicle attributed to Personnel Board Chairman Kevin Barrett and C.O.A. Director Judith O'Connor. The issue involved a statement by Barrett that Colacchio had refused O'Connor's request for shared office help.

"She did ask for one of my clerks because I have three, for two hours," Colacchio wrote. "I asked if she had a special project. She responded, 'two hours a day' and I asked 'ten hours a week?' She confirmed 'ten hours a week'. Not three to five hours as stated in the Chronicle. She told me this would make me look good in the eyes of the Town and that she is the only one trying to help the Town. This is incorrect! I believe other departments are trying to help, including mine."

Colacchio also said she was disappointed that Barrett spoke on the subject. "I attended every department head meeting and heard different suggestions," she wrote, "but, correct me if I'm wrong, none of the suggestions have been implemented to date. Mr. Barrett took action on Mrs. O'Connor's word without any verification from me."

Colacchio also said she did not refuse O'Connor's request for help. "I proceeded to explain, to Mrs. O'Connor, the work load of the Tax office. 'Right now we're trying to get caught up and we are doing Tax Takings. After the Town Meeting we'll have around 5,000 tax bills to get out and 9,000 excise bills in January.' This concluded the discussion on this matter without any refusal or agreement on my part to provide help."

Colacchio concluded the letter by stating that if the three clerks were not needed in her office, they would not be there.

The Board also received a letter from Richard Mulholland, General Contractor on the completed Transfer Station, requesting payment of $11,000 that was withheld for work left to be completed. Chase said the work has been completed and the letter will be given to Town Counsel. He also said Mulholland did not do any of the work for which the monies were held back.

The meeting adjourned at 9:35 P.M.

Volunteer Opportunity Day

MILLBURY - A Volunteer Opportunity Day will be held at the Shaw School Media Center on October 16, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Coffee will be provided along with the camaraderie of other enthusiastic volunteers. If you've ever wondered what it would be like to volunteer in school, come in and talk to some of the wonderful people who have already found it to be a rewarding experience. Involved are parents of school children as well as senior citizens and other community members interested in helping to provide Millbury students with the best possible education. Child care will be available for those with small children.

Annual Candy Sale

MILLBURY - The Millbury Parents Club is holding its annual candy sale, and will feature products from the Nestle-Beich Company. The sale is being held earlier this year so all orders can be completed before the Christmas holiday season. The sale will begin Monday, October 21. Students in Kindergarten through grade eight will be selling a variety of bars, tins and nuts. The Parents Club uses the funds from the candy sale to pay for items not covered by the school budget, such as busing and admission for field trips, and cultural programs for all grade levels. If you would like to make a purchase and are not contacted by a student, call Debbie Harris at 865-1243.

Story Time at Library

MILLBURY - Wear your pajamas and bring your teddy to the family storytime at the Millbury Public Library. Children ages three and up and their favorite adults will listen to the guest reader, Linda Lachance, watch a special filmstrip, and enjoy milk and cookies. This four week program will run on Thursday nights from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. October 17 and 24 and November 7 and 14. Registration will begin October 12, in person at the library. Lack of Volunteers for Ad-Hoc Committee on Discrimination

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The October 2 School Committee meeting convened at 7:30 P.M. with all members present. Superintendent Alfred Sylvia asked the committee to approve moving forward on preparing the Service Awards Dinner for employees who have had continuous service to the school department of 15, 20, 25 and 30 years.

Sylvia said funding for the dinner cannot come from the monies in the school budget. He said the Parents Club will be considering a donation at its meeting next week and Millbury Teachers Association President Tom Murray has indicated that the Association would consider partial funding.

Assistant Superintendent Richard Palermo reported that staff at each of the schools will be involved in in-service training programs underwritten by grant funds. Nine staff people at the High School will be involved in a program using visual and audio procedures for teaching science. The Shaw School will have staff people working on Learning Styles which will focus on students' individual styles and needs. Elmwood St. School will focus on Co-operative Learning, dealing with groups and group learning goals.

Committeeman Ed Wilczynski said he appreciated the fine work that was being done and suggested that the administration take a look at the curriculum at Worcester Academy to see if the Millbury Schools could use it as a model.

Sylvia said he would look into it, noting that the Academy does not have the diversity of needs that a public school has.

Ad Hoc Committee

Palermo reported a lack of volunteers for an ad-hoc committee being developed to address concerns expressed last year by the MTA that there is a perception of sex discrimination towards the teaching staff. Only one staff person at both the Elmwood St. and Shaw schools has volunteered. The make-up of volunteers called for two teachers from each building. Three individuals at the high school level have volunteered. It was decided to proceed with the volunteers already in place. Palermo will chair the committee and Pease and Pojani will represent the School Committee.

Appeal

The Committee heard an appeal from Pamela Garnevich to allow her son, a third grade student, to remain in the Millbury Schools in case she and her family must move to Worcester. She said her house has been up for sale for several months and she has been unable to find a three bedroom apartment in Millbury.

Garnevich said her 8 year old daughter has been enrolled at St. Mary's in Worcester but there is not enough room in grade 3 for her son. She also said she visited the school in Worcester where her son would go if the family moves in with relatives. She said she was very unhappy with the appearance of the building and playground as well as the large class size he would be placed in. "All I am asking is that the School Committee let my son continue in the Millbury Schools for the remainder of the school year," she said.

Sylvia said he told Garnevich that state law says a student must attend school in the town and community where the student resides. He said that in past cases, students have been allowed to finish out the year if they lived with a relative, were juniors or seniors, or if the family moved after the mid-year.

School Committee Chairman Chet Hanratty told Garnevich her son could stay as long as the family lives in town. If a move occurs, he said he would like the child to stay at least until the end of the marking period. "That's the only thing we can do," he said.

Complaint

Prior to moving to executive session, the Committee heard complaints from a husband and wife, who remained unidentified, concerning an incident at a school dance when their son was expelled because of a fight that occurred. The stepfather said his stepson was provoked into the fight after being harassed by guests at the dance.

Hanratty noted any student involved in a fight is automatically suspended.

The stepfather said it was a female student who invited the people who caused all the problems to the dance. He said she should be expelled as well. Both parents said they were upset with Assistant Principal Charles Caparelli's response to the question of why the girl wasn't expelled and what was going to happen to her.

The mother said Caparelli told her nothing was going to happen to the girl. "I am asking for help, and no one will help me," she said.

The father then said that his stepson has received threatening phone calls. He said they were taped and are now being investigated by the police. "One of the callers and a friend of the family came to the school and told Caparelli just the reverse story," the father said, "and Caparelli told my stepson if he didn't stop the threatening phone calls he would be suspended. The issue is outside of school and Caparelli should not be threatening him with kicking him out of school."

Hanratty suggested that both parents take up the issue with Sylvia tomorrow. The parents said they would consider doing so.

Raiders Beat Wachusett 40-28

MILLBURY/SUTTON - The Millbury-Sutton Raiders made their 1991 opening day a successful one by beating Wachusett 40 to 28. The Raiders, in their second year of existence, scored on their first three possessions. Nick Palumbo opened the scoring with a 46 yard sprint up the right side line. The offensive line sealed the defense inside, and Nick broke out wide and never looked back. The extra point failed. After the kick-off, Wachusett moved the ball downfield. They scored a TD but also failed to convert.

Following the Wachusett kick-off, the Raiders were on the prowl again. Mike Palin drove up the middle a couple of times. On the next play, the Raiders scored with Nick Palumbo sweeping around the outside. Later in the second quarter, Raider quarterback Steve Donovan broke to the outside, saw a lot of traffic, and cut back inside across the grain and scampered 48 yards for another Raider touchdown. This time Mike Palin drove up through the middle carrying defensive players on his back and scored the extra points. Before the second quarter ended, Steve Donovan again weaved his way through the Wachusett defense, and Mike Palin again added the extra point to make the score 28-12. With Wachusett driving toward the end zone on the next series, David Tefft came up with a back breaking interception. The Wachusett quarterback dropped back to pass, avoided the big rush, and tried to drop a pass off into the flats, but Dave stepped in front of the intended receiver, caught the ball, and returned it six yards.

The second Wachusett score came on a runback of a Raider kickoff. The raider defense led by Mike Deluca, Nick Morin, Andy Maynard and Greg Kloscek held the Wachusett offense in check for the entire first half. In the second half, Ryan Potter and Mike Palin added a couple more TD's and Wachusett added a kickoff return for a TD. On the last play of the game, Wachusett completed a 55 yard touchdown pass to account for the final score.

The Millbury-Sutton Raiders played their second game of the season last week against Wachusett, and came away with a hard- fought 6-0 victory. After Mike "freight train" Palin scored on a one yard plunge on the Raiders first possession, both teams shut down offensively. The name of the game became Defense.

The Raider team, led by Nick Morin, Greg Kloscek, Andy Maynard, and the two outside linebackers, Nick Palumbo and David Tefft, constantly drove Wachusett backwards. So dominant was their defense that Wachusett ended the day with negative net yards. The raider defense gang-tackled the ball carrier on every play. This aggressiveness caused numerous fumbles of which Nick Morin ended up pouncing on four of them.

The raider coaching staff ran a 2-4-2 alignment that seemed to confuse their opponent and obviously did the job. The Millbury offense did move the ball on occasion but had some costly turnovers. None were nearly as costly as the last fumble. The Wachusett team had no more time-outs so all the raiders had to do was run two more plays. With 1:02 remaining in the game, the Raiders, on a first down, fumbled the ball at the wachusett 40 yard line. On Wachusett's first play, Greg Klosek pressured the Wachusett quarterback and Nick Morin leveled him for a ten yard loss. On the last play, Wachusett completed a pass but Nick Palumbo nailed the receiver in his tracks at the mid field stripe to end the game.

The Raiders are now undefeated in two games this year. The Raiders play their next home game on October 20th at 2 p.m. at Millbury High against the team from Chicopee.

requirement to Pine Ridge, which had no roads, and on which the developer had to construct roads.

"If that road is discontinued," Johnson said, "that doesn't prevent him from developing that property."

Bleakley felt the town was placing an undue burden on him by discontinuing.

With regard to the construction of roads, Johnson said, "I am a firm believer that should be the responsibility of the developer. If we discontinue, he still has that privilege."

"Practically," Connor said, "from where you sit, there's going to be no difference if we take this action. For one lot or ten lots, you're going to have to build a road."

"It's not right for the town to build a road for a developer," Chizy said. "In all honesty, when you bought that property, did you think that was a standard road?"

Bleakley insisted the owners bought the land thinking it was a road.

"What you call a road is a cow path," Chizy said. "In the eyes of a developer, that's a six-lane highway."

Suhl said the town is honeycombed with roads that do not exist. "We're not saying that anyone has lost the right to traverse those roads, but if they are going to be brought up to standard it should be the responsibility of the developer and not the town," he said.

Bob Sanger said the town should research and examine all such roads and discontinue them to avoid future expense and problems.

Strieby closed the hearing by noting that Town Meeting will vote on the discontinuance.

Bleakley said, "You're causing my group to take action now or be at your whim."

"Your recourse now is the Town Meeting," Johnson told him.

Chizy suggested that a catalog of roads to be discontinued be prepared before the next building boom starts.

Scholarship Committee

Enabling legislation for a scholarship fund was accepted by the Town Meeting of October 15, 1990. A check-off form which has been submitted to the Department of Revenue for approval will be sent with the Tax Bills. A voluntary contribution may be made by a check separate from the tax check.

Miscellaneous

- Town Engineer Richard Wharton was scheduled to make a final inspection of Pine Ridge on October 3.

- The Cemetery Commission has an account for "Flowers in the Common" as a result of a donation made some time ago. The planting has been done by Bill Guertin. Helen Ordung and others have expressed interest in the project.

- The Council on Aging won the President's Award at the Millville Homecoming Parade. The Award was presented at lunch on October 2.

- Olivette Marshall had been appointed Clerk in the Collector's Office. She replaces Rosemary Richard, who resigned.

- Bob Sanger reported questions from two residents who thought town officials should not have to pay for dump stickers. Johnson said "Everybody pays, period."

At 9:55 the Board went into Executive session.

Youth Center Haunted House

MILLBURY - The Millbury Youth Center will hold its second annual "Haunted House" on October 31 from 6-9 p.m. for children 12 and under and their parents. Thanks to local contributors, last year was a great success with over 250 people attending. This year promises to be even more exciting now that everyone is practiced in the art of scaring the wits out of people.

Teenagers who attend the Youth Center will be transforming the old school rooms into a house of horrors. They will also be playing the parts of ghouls and goblins. Children who brave the chills and thrills of the haunted house will receive a treat and can also win additional candy and prizes in the Halloween Game Room.

A flyer will be sent out to the schools on this event. People will be admitted on a first-come/first-serve basis. There will be enough treats for 300 children. Admission will be 50 cents per child. Local businesses and organizations are being asked to support this event. If anyone is interested in participating or in making a contribution, contact Penny Downs, Center Director, at 865-7315.

UPC Symbols Sought

MILLBURY - Raymond E. Shaw Elementary School Students will again be collecting "Apple Seals" and UPC symbols from Scott Paper products. The "Apple Seal" campaign will end in the middle of January, 1992 but the UPC symbol collection will continue through May, 1992. Again Scott Paper Company will donate five cents for every UPC symbol the school sends them. Last year $105.00 was given to the Ronald McDonald house in Springfield in the name of Shaw School.

Save "Learning Tools for Schools" apple seals from the following brands: Scot Towels, Scot Tissue, Scotties, Family Scott, Scott Family, Viva Towels, Softkins, Baby Fresh, Viva Accents, Napkins and Wash-a-bye Baby.

Apple Seals and UPC symbols may be given to any Shaw Student or deposited in containers at the Millbury Post Office or Millbury Public Library. If you have any questions or would like to help prepare the seals and symbols for counting, call Leah E. Devine at 752-3537.

CORRECTION

The free bicycle registration and inspection program to be conducted by Millbury Police Department Safety Officer Ron Richard will be held October 12 from 9-3 at police headquarters, Elm Street, and not at 5 Dolan Road as reported in last week's Chronicle.

Safety Officer Arranges Free Bicycle Registration Program

MILLBURY - There are many bicycles stolen every year. When the bicycles are recovered, it is often difficult to locate the owners. In an attempt to return recovered bicycles to the rightful owners, Millbury Police Department Safety Officer Ronald E. Richard will conduct a free bicycle registration program and a free courtesy bicycle safety inspection. This program will take place October 12 from 9-3 at police headquarters. Anyone seeking to register a bicycle after this date can do so by appointment with the safety officer.

The following information will be taken at the registration: name, address and phone number of the owner; the bike's make, model, color and serial number. A special serial number will be affixed to each bike that is being registered. This number will be kept on file at the Police Department to enable the police to quickly identify and notify the owners of recovered bikes.

This courtesy inspection is designed to ensure that the bike has the basic safety equipment. This inspection should in no way take the place of routine preventive maintenance by a certified bicycle technician.

The following sponsors have made this program possible: The Millbury Lions Club, Inc., Day's Used Auto Parts, Country Meadows Farm, Ronald and Stephanie Baker, The Millbury Police Association.

Preschool Play Group

MILLBURY - A preschool play group will be forming at the Elmwood Stree School on Thursday, October 24 and Friday October 25. The Group will meet from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. in room 17 (upstairs). Amorello Named to Ways and Means Committee

BOSTON - Senator Matthew J. Amorello (R-Grafton) has been named by Senate Minority Leader David H. Locke to serve on the Senate Ways and Means Committee. "I have selected Senator Amorello for this important position because he has demonstrated a keen interest in and sound understanding of fiscal issues during his tenure in the Senate," Locke said. "Sen. Amorello will bring both his belief in fiscal stability and his understanding of urban issues to the committee's budget deliberations, which will prove invaluable both to ways and Means and to the people of Sen. Amorello's district."

Amorello, a first-term senator from the First Worcester and Middlesex District, was elected last fall as a Republican in a heavily Democratic region. Amorello said he was elated by his selection to the committee, and pledged to "fight hard on Ways and Means for the policies and goals I have represented in the Senate, and to help ensure a sound fiscal future for Massachusetts."

SUTTON - After a summer filled with Cub Scout Day Camp, Mom-and-Me, WOW Weekend, and Webelos Resident Camp, it's back to business as usual for the boys in Pack 243. The first meeting of the year was held September 27. After the induction of Jerry Petrie as Cub Scout Master by committee chairperson Gail Lefferts (photo above), Petrie performed his first official duty as "leader of the pack." He inducted the committee members and den leaders for the 1991-92 Cub Scout year.

As parents registered their boys and volunteered to help run Pack 243, the Cubs and Webelos were presented with an informative and interesting program by two members of the Sutton Fire Department. A hearty Cub Scout round of applause to Ken Smith and Bill Jones for sharing their knowledge of fire safety with the children and adults.

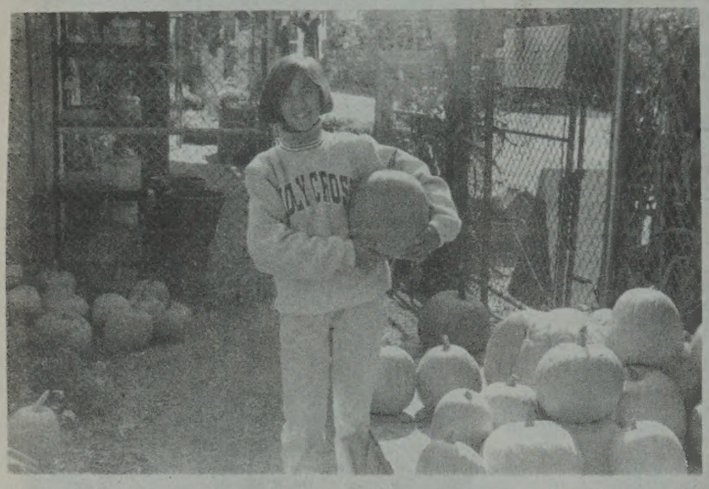
Pumpkins and Apples Abound

MILLBURY/SUTTON - Nothing captures the essence of the Fall Season more than plump pumpkins, gourds, colorful mums, corn stalks, and ripe, red apples. Below and to the right are three area businesses where you can select from this year's bountiful harvest: Blossom's on Providence Road in Wilkinsonville; Highland Farm on Greenwood Street, Millbury; and Stowe Orchards on Stowe Road, Millbury.



Photos by Alexander A. Belisle

Abigail Atamian, daughter of Blossom's owners, Guy and Liz Travers, helps stack a yard full of pumpkins.

Dave Matson, owner of Highland Farms, gives his team of Belgian draft horses some exercise by having them transport goods down from the fields.

Stowe Orchards has harvested a banner crop of sweet apples, perfect for holiday specialties or just for healthy eating.
